LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded, streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "The Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—adv.

Washington Trip Is Deferred Till Tobacco Bill Up

Danville's tobacco and commercial interests are united and ready when the word is given to send a strong delegation to Washington in an effort to win disapproval by the committees of the two branches and by Congress itself of the proposal to increase the tax on manufactured tobacco. A committee consisting of M. O. Nelson, chairman; Charles B. Davis and Fred Brown had been designated to go to Washington and appear before the House Committee of Ways and Means to which the proposed tobacco tax amendment would go and was ready to make the trip.

The journey to Washington has been deferred by the committee which will await word from Senator Swanson, as to the opportune moment to present the views of the tobacco interests. This course was decided upon after the following telegram from Senator Claude A. Swanson had been received:

"Washington, D. C., February 28.—Telegram regarding increase of tax from three to four dollars per thousand on cigarettes received. This is an amendment to tax reduction bill passed by committee of whole House of Representatives will come before House again for final vote. Suggest you use influence with members of House to defeat it on next vote. Should bill pass House and come to Senate with this amendment, will do all I can to defeat it in Senate. Have been doing and will continue to give matter best attention and efforts. As not now before any committee, see no reason for sending delegation.

"Claude A. Swanson."

The amendment to the revenue bill, known as Title IV, Sec. 400, after fixing the tax on cigars includes the following proposed tax on cigarettes:

"Cigarettes made of tobacco or any substitute therefor, and weighing not more than three pounds per thousand, $3 per thousand.

"Weighing more than three pounds per thousand, $7.20 per thousand."

This is the portion of the amendment to the revenue bill which seriously affects the future of the tobacco industry, it being conceded that the proposed tax increase, if adopted, would be passed by the committee of whole House of Representatives. Not only are the states wherein bright leaf tobacco suitable for cigarette-making seriously affected by this proposal, but all the states which grow seed-leaf or cigar-leaf tobacco are also aroused by this at the proposal, which tobaccoists are concerned. Increase of the already high taxes on tobacco and tobacco products would diminish the consumption of cigars or cigarettes as a result of the inevitable increase in price to the consumer, and its decreased demand for tobacco in manufactured form would react upon the growers by diminishing the demand for this product.

All the tobacco interests of the country will be welded together into a cohesive whole in the effort to defeat the proposal, to make tobacco pay a higher tax even than the dollar a pound now being paid. When the consideration of this amendment to the federal revenue act comes up for further action, the details will be fully made known through the columns of this paper.

SAYS SCHOOLS TURN OUT "SOFTIES" NOW

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—C. B. Cornell, superintendent of the Shaker Heights School of Cleveland, in an address today before the department of superintendents of the National Education Association, declared that the public schools of the country are turning out "softies." He declared that the work of the average child is too soft and lacks the depth of concentration which makes for vigorous character development.

Many of the educators believe that the present school day is too short and favor the eight-hour day for school children. "However unacceptable this suggestion may seem to our school children, the plan under consideration has many redeeming features," according to David R. Croson, superintendent of the Newark, N. J., schools, and he intimated that school hours in the future might be even longer than eight hours.

"The new schedule provides several periods for supervised recreation," said Mr. Croson, "such as an hour or two of work in the school garden and a period of some vocational training."

HOOPER NOT CANDIDATE

Col. Hodges Tells of State Chamber

Colonel LeRoy Hodges, staff officer and director of the budget for one governor and continued in the latter capacity until his recent resignation of that responsibility, was a visitor in Danville yesterday, his mission here being to present to the directors of the Danville Chamber of Commerce the full scope and definite objectives of the Chamber of Commerce of Virginia, of which he is executive director. The speaker made a succinct and impressive presentation of his theme to an audience which included several members of the local Chamber besides the full membership of its directorate. Colonel Hodges was given not only a cordial reception, but a sympathetic and attentive hearing, and made a fine impression personally and for his cause.

Generally, the speaker's theme may be stated as "What Can We Do With the Chamber of Commerce of Virginia," and in enumerating some of the definite and important objectives of that body in its work for the up-building and development of Virginia, he stressed first the development of Virginia's great port and waterway, Hampton Roads, and the possibilities in the development of the commerce of the State and the growth of the splendid cities clustered around it and now almost united. Next he took up the splendid possibilities of the industrial development of Virginia through intelligent effort on the part of this State body of thoughtful and influential men. He elaborated this phase of his subject effectively and impressively. The large part the State body may play in the civic development of the State was the next theme of his address, and one that closely and vitally concerns the cities and towns. His next presentation of the possibilities and specific aims of the State commercial body was the development of the vast and varied natural resources of Virginia—agricultural, mineral, timber and all the varied products of this State. Linking up all these several objectives as part of one great plan and purpose and showing how closely and vitally they were interrelated, he finally stressed one of the outstanding needs of Virginia today and in the future—definite effort to invite, encourage and assure a large influx of north European peoples, a sturdy, sane, industrious and efficient element through whose aid agriculture, commerce, mining and manufacturing receive a great and needed impetus.

Before Colonel Hodges spoke, the directors of the local Chamber held a brief executive session at which they warmly endorsed the action of the Tobacco Board of Trade and in formulating and seeking to effectuate an earnest protest against the proposal by the federal Congress to increase taxes on tobacco.

The body also expressed its disapproval of the Early bill now pending in the General Assembly which would impose a special revenue act of ten cents per pound on candies and confectioneries.

Another pending legislation measure which, if enacted, would take out of the hands of the county board of supervisors the section of farm demonstration agents and home demonstration agents, a proposal, which, in the view of the Chamber, would make these important positions mere prizes of politics, to be sought and scrambled for by men and women, irrespective of their equipment and fitness for such important development work.

Altogether the meeting of the Board was significant of its alertness to the interests not only of the people of this city, but of the surrounding counties and of the State at large.

"Weed" Gives New Drink With Kick

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Vomitoria is no nice name for a plant. Yet Ilex Vomitoria is good stuff, served something like tea.

If ever you've visited the Argentine, you've heard of "yerba mate," with an accent, please, on the final "e." The Argentine sucks it out of a gourd, through a tube. He sucks it to the tune of 20 pounds of the ground-up leaf per year per Argentine—man, woman and child. It stimulates but does not inebriate.

The Argentine simply puts boiling water and a small handful of mate, dried and ground, in his gourd, inserts a tube sticks in his bombilla, as he calls the tube, and there he is.

But now mate is grown in this country, also! From the James River to the Rio Grande it grows on the sandiest ground—good for nothing else. It's a weed—as big as trees.

They call it "cassina." It's almost the same as the South American mate plant.

But cheap!—oh! All prepared ready to drink, it can be sold for 5 cents a pound. This beats not only tea and coffee, but South American mate as well. The latter costs about a peso a pound, or 44 cents.

The chemistry bureau of the Department of Agriculture gets credit for making cassia so cheap. The plant itself naturally is cheap, being a weed. The chemistry bureau, by inventing a method of separating leaves from stems and uring and grinding them, did the rest.

Some Department of Agriculture man, visiting the Argentine and discovering how popular mate was there, thought up the scheme of getting this market for the United States, by sending cassina to the Argentines.

The idea worked out so well that now the department believes a big market can be developed in this country, too.

So maybe Americans will be going around the streets sucking mate from highly decorated gourds, the way the Argentines do.

Incidentally, the department says cassina, fixed up with sirup, makes a mighty fine cold soda fountain drink. And it can be used for flavoring ice cream.

LIVES AND LIMBS SAVED BY CAROLINA STOP LAW

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 28.—Deaths and injuries from grade crossing accidents showed a marked decline following the enactment of the North Carolina law requiring drivers of motor vehicles to stop before crossing railroad tracks, according to figures just made public by the Safety Department of the Southern Railway System. The law became effective on July 1, 1923, and in the ensuing six months, four persons were killed and eleven injured in eleven accidents at crossings of the Southern's tracks in North Carolina, as against six killed and twenty-four injured in twenty-one accidents during the first six months of 1923, eleven killed and twenty-five injured in eighteen accidents during the last half of 1922, and eight killed and twenty-two injured in fifteen accidents during the first half of 1922.

This decrease in casualties was in the face of an increasing volume of automobile and truck travel, 24,612 motor vehicles having been registered in the office of the Secretary of State of North Carolina during 1923 as against 182,069 in 1922.

DISAPPOINTMENT IN LOVE FACTOR IN ACTRESS' SUICIDE

(Associated Press, Licensed Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Disappointment in love, besides literary and theatrical failures, caused Valerie Beasco Martin, formerly of Seattle and Milwaukee, to kill herself in her mother's Riverside Drive apartment yesterday, it was learned today.

Miss Martin was said to have killed herself less than an hour after she had returned home from a gay supper party with two men, one of whom was a Red Cross captain, a married man, with whom she was said to have been in love. She met the captain at a hospital where she had gone to read to wounded soldiers. He was reported to have told the girl at their last meeting, a few hours before she returned home to kill herself, that he expected his wife to divorce him but that he proposed never again to marry.

The following verses written by the captain were found in Miss Martin's papers:

"Valie Dear, it's quite pathetic

when a lady gets poetic and inflicts her thoughts aesthetic on an unfeeling pal; and if I remember rightly, you have devoted slightly from the facts when touching lightly on our friendship—little gal—gal!

"Now I never said my kisses should be kept for my dear Mrs. for in such a world as this is, that would make life rather flat; and I never made love to you from the time that I first knew you. You don't really mean it, do you, when you state that I did that?"

"In a tone that's almost chiding, you accuse me, dear, of hiding facts I should have been confiding in you as a family friend. And although it may be true, it was a low-down trick to do, I confess it in end. The chances you've been taking are the reasons why I'm shaking one I've learned to like too well. And although it seems like hitting-kind of low, old girl, I'm quitting, though I'm candidly admitting that it certainly is hell."

FOREIGN SHIPS BEING WATCHED BY DRY AGENTS

Take Liquor Off When Too Much Is Aboard and Chase Vessels Over
"Ocean Border."

By ROBERT T. SMALL.
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
New York has two months of permitting "business as usual" in the bars and smoke rooms of the trans-Atlantic liners plying in and out of New York the last two months have been broken at last and everyone involved is wondering just who is to blame.

Under this so-called agreement many liners have been bringing into port sufficient liquors to run their bars on the way back home. Of course this has not been applied to ships flying the American flag. They are at least supposed to be as dry as bone nowadays, and little or no attention is paid to them, as they come and go.

But with the ships flying foreign flags it is different. It is especially different with the British ships and has been ever since the twelve-mile limit treaty was negotiated in London. With the signing of that treaty it was tacitly, but formally understood that it would be taken for granted as being in effect without waiting for government and senate ratification. If that was not the way the governments at Washington and London looked at it, it was at least the viewpoint taken by ship commanders and when anxious and thirty travelers aboard the British liners have inquired of the possibility of getting "something" on the way to Europe, they have been told that all would be well.

Just as soon as the three mile limit is passed.

Further evidence of the tacit understanding on rum matters between the United States and Great Britain has been given by the seizures the American authorities have made of whiskey outside the three mile limit.

Government officials have not hesitated to chase the rum runners over the ocean "border" and capture them six, nine or twelve miles out.

These seizures might have been held as distinctly violating existing laws but Great Britain has kept quiet about them. Rum vessels and rum syndicates have endeavored to get the foreign office at London to make representations at Washington, but the new twelve mile limit treaty understanding has kept London quiet. The big trans-Atlantic operating lines were desirous that nothing should be done to disturb the quiet which was permitting travelers aboard the British vessels to enjoy their "rights" and customs as in the pre-Veiled days.

All has been as quiet and snug as a bug in a rug. All the clamor about the liners, all the breaking of seals and the seizing of liquor bonds for the return trip, all this has ceased.

Suddenly, however, the American authorities have taken a new tack. The giant liner Adriatic was sailing a few days ago for a Mediterranean cruise. Five hundred tourists were booked to go and there were to be no stops this side of Naples, a nine or ten days' jump.

One hundred and eighty-six cases of liquors, wines, etc., were aboard while the Adriatic was in New York. Also aboard was a number of big tenders and smoke room stewards. The bar itself was handsomely polished. Cocktails and whiskey glasses were sparkling in their crystalline readiness.

For some reason, which London frankly says it does not understand, the American authorities descended upon the Adriatic and took off all her liquid supply except the whiskey and brandy permitted under health regulations.

Naturally there was great gloom among the travelers and a blow was struck at the prestige of British shipping interests.

The raid on the Adriatic has been followed by one on the Italian liner Conte Verde, and seizures aboard several other foreign vessels.

The raiding officers here in New York will not discuss the subject. They merely say they are carrying out the law.

No one has heard of a hitch in the twelve mile treaty, which is supposed to be on its way to certain ratification in the United States senate. It already has been ratified by England and all the British colonies and dominions. The British liner captains meantime are in something of a panic and don't know whether their next voyage eastward is to be wet or dry.

The rum runners have long accepted the twelve mile limit. There has been no increase in the price of imported liquors as a result of the new treaty. The bootleggers are hard to discourage.

Southern's Wage Agreement Is Fully Explained

The following statement was issued yesterday by R. B. Pegram vice-president of the Southern railway, thru L. F. DeRamus, superintendent of the Danville division, concerning the recent wage settlement between the Southern and its conductors, train and yard men.

A new principle of co-operative effort in the relations of railways with their employees was introduced in the agreement of the Southern railway system with its conductors, train and yard men, announced yesterday by Vice President H. W. Miller, in charge of operation of the Southern. The agreement established an additional community of interest between the Southern and its train operatives. The men are given an opportunity to earn a bonus through increased efficiency by decreasing expenses which are directly under their control.

The agreement covers a period of three years with an increase of approximately five per cent. in the base rate of pay for the entire period, and a bonus for the second and third year, dependent upon the degree of efficiency reached by the train employees. The bonus is to be gauged by an agreed ratio of expense of train operation to gross revenue. In this way, the Southern and the train employees will share in the benefits arising from increased efficiency and the control of such expenses as are, to a great extent, in the hands of the men.

Dr. Voschell to Be Here On Saturday

Several calls have already been received at the city health office in connection with the free clinic in orthopedic surgery which will be conducted here tomorrow Dr. Allen F. Voschell, Dr. Garnett recently notified the county supervisor of schools at Chatham to bring the matter to the attention of parents in several communities and it is expected also that patients will be brought from Martinsville and South Boston. The last time Dr. Voschell was here he treated 19 children suffering from various physical defects. Many of those treated at earlier clinics and who now are wearing special braces are showing considerable improvement, Dr. Garnett reports.

The clinics involve no cost to those who are treated. Dr. Voschell's visits are financed by the University of Virginia and this is part of the institution's extension work. Incidentally it is interesting to note that at the request of resident Edwin Alderman, of the University of Virginia, Senator Early has introduced in the legislature a bill providing for an appropriation of $250,000 to be applied to the medical school of the University of Virginia and thus develop it tremendously. Dr. Garnett understands that a donor has promised to be applied to this branch of the University. The name of the donor has not been made public. Alumni of the University are being asked to write to their representative asking that they vote for the early bill.

MASS. PUTS ON DRIVE AGAINST BIG BILLBOARDS

Size of Signs Along Highways Limited—Cuts Off Her Beautiful Scenery.

By HENRY K. WENDELL
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
BOSTON, Feb. 28.—Massachusetts grand old seat of culture, has stepped to the fore again. This time it is a State-wide drive against the billboards that line her highways.

No longer will the tourist along the Springfield highway have the delightful view of Mount Tom cut off from him by huge billboards that he can't see over, under or around. No longer will the sylvan beauties of the Mohawk Trail be obscured by glaring boards in primary colors extolling the virtues of this, and the other. And no longer will the farmer collect a free coat of paint for his barn for the Prominent retired merchant says he feels like new man since Tanlac relieved him of his troubles. Can now outwalk men 20 years younger.

Rejuvenated

R. E. Boyd, 5000 Fourteenth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., for forty-eight years prominent hardware merchant in the national capital, but now retired, lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac.

"Indigestion and stomach weakness of a very pronounced type had troubled me for several months prior to last October fifteenth," said Mr. Boyd, recently, "but since that date the Tanlac treatment has made a new man of me. Now I eat heartily, never have a sign of indigestion, sleep like a log and get up mornings feeling like an athlete. Today I can outwalk men twenty years younger. Tanlac alone put me in my present fine physical condition, enabling me to get more real pleasure than ever before out of meeting and mingling with friends. Tanlac has rejuvenated me completely, so to speak. It's the finest medicine I ever ran across."

mere privilege granted the latest patent medicine advertiser to scorch his wares in five-foot letters on its walls.

The State Department of Public Works, recently empowered to regulate billboard advertising by the simple process of licensing that industry, has served notice on its licensees to get into line by July 1, or prepare to separate themselves from a lot of money. Violation of the new regulations is punishable by a fine of $100 for the first offense, and $500 for the second.

This doesn't mean, however, that billboards are to go together in the Bay State. Massachusetts is taking it by degrees. The present regulations merely restrict the size and the placing of signs. How long it will be before the boards are entirely eliminated is a question. But the civic organizations and individuals who fought the scenic "desecration" to the point of getting it regulated, are carrying on with a clean sweep as their goal. The billboard men, of course, are carrying on a tremendous fight in the other direction.

The regulations so far promulgated provide:

That no billboard exceeding 32 square feet in area shall be erected within 100 feet of a public highway.

That no billboard exceeding 25 in length or 25 feet in height shall be erected within 300 feet of a public highway.

That in no event may a billboard exceeding 50 feet and 42 feet in height be erected, save that the department of public works may in its discretion authorize erection of boards 15 feet in height provided they are not more than 40 feet in length.

The Cape Cod district probably will be the hardest ground in the billboard war. There the billboard interests have capitalized the popular summer playground, not only of New Englanders but of a substantial representation from all over the United States. The industry never has flourished extensively in the picturesque, hilly sections of Massachusetts, largely because the State has acquired and banned to billboards, large strips of territory on both sides of the road.

The Boston Post Road, leading from Boston to New York, by way of Springfield, probably will be the scene of another war, as it is liberally lined with advertising. In this connection, it is noteworthy that when Henry Ford acquired the historic Wayside Inn in Sudbury, which Longfellow celebrated in verse, he took pains to acquire a substantial acreage from which he banished billboards and hot dog counters.

The present regulations of the highway department certainly seem to represent an important step toward billboard control, but curiously enough, they have failed to please anybody. While the billboard interests have denounced them as an "invasion of private rights" opponents of the industry contend that they do not go far enough. Those who do not insist upon complete elimination demand that a uniform billboard be prescribed, which shall not exceed eight feet in length and four feet in height.

Brilliant Wedding at Old Epiphany Church

One of the most brilliant weddings in the recent history of Danville and which was attended by perhaps the largest and one of the most brilliant congregations ever assembled in Epiphany church was that at 9 o'clock last night which united two of the best known families of Danville—that of Miss Catherine James and that of Miss Catherine James. Rarely has an old edifice around which cluster memories of so many happy occasions been more charmingly decorated for such an occasion than last night. The celebratory Dandridge Tucker, Reverend Beverly Dandridge Tucker, assisted by the Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector of the church.

The wedding recalls two noteworthy weddings of former years and has some interesting and romantic features, notably in the fact that the parents of the bride met at the wedding of the groom's father and that the two families have been closely and warmly associated in church and social circles for many years. The ceremony itself with its beautiful and rhythmic diction and the undertone of solemnity with which it invests a wedding with grace. The dignity, reverence and beauty of the scene was embodied in beautiful floral decorations and effectively lighted and constituted a beautiful tableau.

Epiphany Church, one of the oldest in the city and rich in memories which are woven into the lives of the bride and groom by inheritance, their grandparents and parents having been most closely associated with its services for the past century, made a most impressive background and was decorated with consummate artistry last evening. About the chancel rail were stately palms, intermingled with Southern holly and white tapers, and Cathedral candles, cast a soft glow over the beautiful scene.

While the guests were assembling, the organist played the march from Tanhauser, followed by the bridal chorus from Lohengrin's march as the processional and Mendelssohn's march as the recessional.

Hugh Willford, William Lavalle Robinson, Berkeley Carrington, Jr., Morton Riddle and John G. Boatwright acted as ushers.

The bridesmaids were Misses Mary Temple and Sue Brown, Annie James and Marian Boatwright, Adeline Patterson, of New York, and Kate Schofield of Mullins, S. C.; Misses Barbara James and Harrell James, sisters of the bride.

All of the bridesmaids wore gowns of cream tulle over shellpink accented plaid chifon with broad sashes of iridescent shades of orchid ribbon forming the train, tipped with French flowers.

All wore silver slippers and carried bouquets of sweet peas and a shower of violets.

Miss Daisy Schofield Keen, cousin of the bride, was a lovely flower girl and was dressed in a wonderful creation of cream colored d'Alencon lace over rainbow chifon, with pink cash silver slippers and carrying a basket of spring flowers.

Miss Harrell James, maid of honor, wore a distinctive gown of orange and white with turquoise and crystal trimmings and sash of turquoise satin, and silver slippers. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses and lavender sweet peas. All the bridesmaids' gowns were bouffant style.

The groomsmen were Julian C. Jordan, Jr., and George Cochran of Richmond, Wayles R. Harrison and Frank Higgins, of New York; Maitland Bustard and Frank Talbott, Jr., of Morton Riddle. They wore boutonnieres of white roses, and the groom wore valley lilies.

Oliver W. Dudley, Jr., of New York, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Misses Lizora and Frank Schofield, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schofield, Jr., and cousins of the bride, wore ribbon curls and wore lovely dresses of accented plaid shell-pink Georgette trimmed in Valenciennes lace and silver ribbon.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, Dr. H. Bruce James, who gave her in marriage. She was radiantly beautiful in her gown of ivory tulle trimmed in Rose-point and Duflex lace, worn by her mother at her wedding. The gown was made bouffant style with hertha of lace and from the waist hung two cascades of Point lace over an apron design of tucked chifon. Her veil was of tulle and worn in cape shape with coronet of real lace held by tulle of orange blossoms. The soft flowing veil fell gracefully, forming a train which was caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of cream Ophelia roses with silver of valley lilies. The bride wore no ornaments.

The impressive ceremony of the Protestant Episcopal church was performed by Rt. Rev. Beverly Dandridge Tucker, bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, assisted by the Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector of the church. The prayer following the vows was chanted by a quartet of male voices.

Brilliant Reception Follows.
Following the ceremony at 9:30 o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. James gave a reception at their beautiful home on Main street for Mr. and Mrs. Dudley. The entire lower floor was decorated in the bridal colors, white and green, with pink motif. Southern holly and pine with Red-rose maid were artistically arranged in wreaths and clusters about mantels and doors, forming arches and a back-drops against which the bridesmaids gowns worn by the receiving party gave a note of vivid color.

The dining room table had center place with a handsome flat-lace cloth, a large silver basket filled with sweet peas and violets. Silver candelabra, with lighted white candles, were so placed as to give a soft glowing light over the whole scene. Mrs. J. A. Perkins and Mrs. H. Lee Boatwright. The handsome punch bowl and ladle were peculiarly interesting because of being a gift to the groom's parents, Col. and Mrs. O. W. Dudley, from the late Governor Chas. F. Tamm of Virginia, and a gift of which Col. Dudley was a member at the time of his marriage. Receiving in the dining room with Dr. and Mrs. James, (the latter wearing a handsome embroidered black robe with silver lace, with orange or coral, and valley lilies) were Col. and Mrs. O. W. Dudley, parents of the groom, Mrs. Dudley wearing a rose-colored crepe richly embroidered in silver, and corsage of orchids; Mrs. Nannie Estes, grandmother of the groom, wearing a gown of black Spanish lace with gownstone ornaments; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Estes Dudley and the members of the bridal party.

Others who assisted in receiving and serving in the library, halls and dining room were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Swanson, Mesdames Malcolm S. Taylor, Rorer A. James Sr., Archibald D. Keen, Eugene Adams, Wilson James, Tyree Dillard, John H. Schoolfield Jr., Rorer A. James Jr., Henry Schoolfield, Mullins, S. C.; J. E. B. Stuart, John James, Alexander C. Conway, Spencer James, T. Turner Hamlin, Misses Martha Toot and Kate Lee Toot.

Mrs. T. Ashby Weller and Mrs. Hardin Hairston, of Briford, served ices. Mrs. George Ivy and Mrs. Walter T. Paxton were in charge of the Bride's Book. Delightful music was rendered during the evening by a string orchestra. Several hundred guests called during the evening.

The bride and groom left on a late train for the South. They will return to Danville for several weeks and later, will make their home in Spunway, S. C., where Mr. Dudley holds a position with the China-American Tobacco Company.

The marriage last night unites two of the oldest and most prominent families of Danville. The bride is the second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. James, and has been one of the most popular young society girls of Danville since her debut. She is a graduate of the Danville High School and attended Brenau College, at Gainesville, Ga.

Mr. Dudley is the second son of Col. and Mrs. O. W. Dudley. He was graduated from Virginia Military Institute and is also an alumnus of the University of Virginia. Seldom has a wedding been so largely attended by Danville and out-of-town people. The church was packed to the doors and many were turned away.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Tyree Dillard, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Eugene Adams, of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schoolfield, of Mullins, S. C.; Miss Adeline Patterson of New York, Mr. and Mrs. George Cochran, of Richmond, Capt. John Bruce James, of Virginia Military Institute, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mountcastle, Miss Kate Schoolfield, of Mullins, S. C. Mr. and Mrs. Julian C. Jordan, of Burlington, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vass, of Winston-Salem, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Craig, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Hugh Willford, of Roxboro, N. C.; Miss Helen Morse, of Boston, Mass.; Freeman Higgins, of New York; W. W. Dudley, of New York; Frank Talbott and Maitland Bustard, of University of Virginia; Mrs. Frank Nelson, of Birmingham, Ala.

A Quiet Wedding.

On Wednesday, Feb. 27, at five o'clock, p. m., Miss Lillie Wilburn and Otis Whitlow were married at the home of the bride's uncle, J. P. Francis. Only a few most intimate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a suit of gray and turquoise blue point tulle. The only attendants were Miss Otella Wilburn, sister of the bride, and Jesse Ritchie. The ceremony was performed by the groom's pastor, Rev. J. E. McCauley. Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served to the wedding party.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilburn. The groom is a prosperous young farmer, the son of Edward Whitlow. They will reside with the groom's father.

Those witnessing the ceremony were Misses Nannie and Lillie Whitlow, Mrs. John Wilburn, mother of the bride, Miss Otella Wilburn, sister of the bride, and Jesse Ritchie.

Five O'clock Tea.
The workers of the Y. W. C. A. campaign are invited to a five o'clock tea at the Y. Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Instructions and materials will be given out to the workers. Every one is urged to be present.

Give Reception.

A reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Potteat who have just returned from their wedding trip, was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Evan, Stokes street, on Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Evan. The young bride and groom were presented with many useful articles made of linen, following which a most enjoyable evening was spent in listening to music and the rendition of songs by a well known quartet. Among those present were Misses Annie Buck, Lucy Evans, Fay and Mabel Anderson, Clara Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Moseley, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Barts, Percy Hubbard, Flat Smith, Eugene Prvor, W. E. Gammon, Mrs. J. W. Hall and Mrs. C. G. Holt.

Mrs. Slaughter Honored.
Mrs. W. C. Day entertained at five tables of bridge yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. S. J. Slaughter. The rooms were decorated with Japanese lanterns and cherry blossoms and red winter berries, making a very artistic and colorful effect. Mrs. Greenhorn Maury won top-score prize, two decks of cards, and Mrs. Richard Mease received the booby. A handsome Japanese plate was presented to the guest.

Brilliant Reception Follows.

Luncheon for Bridal Party.

Miss Annie Wilson James was the hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the country club yesterday at 1 o'clock, honoring Miss Catherine James, bride of last evening. The club rooms were fragrant with spring flowers, and covers were laid for thirty-three guests, including the bridal party and several out-of-town guests. The centerpiece of tulips and yellow jonquils, yellow candles, tied with bows of yellow tulle, and place cards, carried out very artistically a color scheme of yellow and green. Besides the bridal party were Mesdames Eugene Adams, of Washington, formerly Miss Hontas Tinsley, Mrs. Kenneth Mountcastle, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. O. W. Dudley, Dr. R. Bruce James, Mrs. John Boatwright, Mrs. Nelson.

The affair was a very delightful one and the last of a series of brilliant functions which have been given during the past week by close relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LESLIE PRESCOTT TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

DEAREST:
We arrived here yesterday all safe and sound. Your mother is looking splendidly. I think it has done her a great deal of good to get rid of that terrible Priscilla Broadford. My visit is very amusing here. Your mother intended to be nice to me, but not particularly cordial, and at first she hardly looked at the baby. After a while I saw her edging over to him when she thought no one was in the room. Finally early one morning I heard a low singing in the room next to me which had been turned into a nursery during my visit.

Getting up, I slipped over to the door in my night dress. You'll never believe it, Jack, but there was your mother in a wrapper, her hair in curl papers (I'll bet you, Jack, you have never seen your mother in curl papers) and she was holding the baby in her arms, singing: "A Charge to Keep I Have."

Little Jack's great big brown eyes were open wide. He was looking at her with the utmost satisfaction. One of his dear little hands was fingering her throat. She looked happier than I have ever seen her, and as I came through the door, she glanced up at me quite naturally. "It was made by your son's tiny lips and your wife has

John was a baby."
"I knew you only had to see him, mother, to love him."
"I wish he did belong to me," he said wistfully.
"He does, he does. Mother Prescott, I don't know any difference, but I sometimes think it is rather foolish to be so sure a woman who has given birth to a child can love it and be any more of a real mother to it than the woman who has taken the child because she loved it, not because it is her duty but because of that love."

Your mother looked at me rather strangely as she said:
"Leslie, I suppose that is one of the new-fangled ideas. One of my greatest pleasures was that God had seen fit to let me bear a child and I believe I would have been very much hurt if I thought any other person could have loved Jack even as well as I."

Of course, Jack dear, I wanted to tell her she had been very selfish in her love for you, but, poor old lady, I expect she brought you up just as well as she could with the limited knowledge that one knew of child welfare at that time.

Anyway, dear, I know you are the best man in all the world, and if little Jack grows up half as good as you are I shall feel I have done my duty as a mother.

Don't worry about me. I'm having a good time here. I think now I was partly to blame for your mother's antipathy toward me. She really is very sweet, and although we do not agree on one subject, we are getting along pretty well-together. Of course I have to keep my mouth shut more than I'd like. I wonder if all old people are as cock sure of themselves as your mother, Jack.

Do you see that little spot here on the letter? It was made by your son's tiny lips and your wife has also pressed a kiss upon it. We are sending them both with love to you. LESLIE.

MANILA, Feb. 28.—Restocking of central Luzon provinces, which were almost swept clean of work animals recently by the anthrax plague, has begun with the importation of carabao from the northern provinces. The department of agriculture reports that the situation in the infected region is favorable and that only a few new cases are developing. Strict quarantine, however, is still in force.

But Times Changed For Jesse's Aide

"BILLY" STILES, EX-BANDIT COMRADE OF JESSE JAMES

By JACK JUNGMEYER
GLENDAL, Cal., Feb. 27.—The only surviving member of Jesse James' gang is here—reformed. William Stiles is a disturbing refutation of the proverb that you can't straighten the bent hough. Billy in boyhood and prime was as crooked a hough as was ever fashioned by the storms of outlaws. Today, at the age of 74, is as straight a human tree as ever weathered the sale.

He does odd jobs on a farm and writes a book between chores. "It was bad from the time I can first remember," explains Stiles. "I started stealing as soon as I could walk."

But when he reached that age when most men consider their lives unalterably fixed, Stiles began to leave into the gospel instead of bank vaults and mail pouches.

His first crime was at 14. He robbed a drunken man. He ran away from home and went to a New York and industries for an investigation of the textile, shoe and paper industries of his state. He asserts the cotton mills of New Bedford and Fall River practically are shut down, and that in Lynn the value of manufactures has declined from $50,000,000 a year before the war to $31,000,000, owing to departure of shoe manufacturers to other centers. Textile manufacturers declare they had previously pointed out that unsatisfactory conditions would result if what they term discriminatory legislation were passed affecting their industry.

GREEN-EYED MONSTER TAKES TWO VICTIMS

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 28.—Finding of the bodies of two students of the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, shot to death in their room in the local Y. M. C. A. today, lead to efforts by police to discover whether their deaths were due to a suicide pact prompted by infatuation for the same girl. The dead youths were Thomas Shenton and James Warmkessel, both of Pottstown. A note, in Shenton's handwriting, indicated a double suicide.

The bodies were discovered by Clara Hurling, another resident of the Y. M. C. A. dormitories, who found Warmkessel's body lying at the door of the room, with hat and overcoat on, and a muffled over his face, while Shenton's body lay on the bed, fully clad, shot through the left chest with a pistol beside it. Warmkessel had been shot in the temple and chest, the wounds being powdered marked by the close range of the shots.

The note, dated yesterday, read: "Jimmy and I are both disgusted with ourselves. It's awful to be weaklings with nothing in ourselves to be proud of, so what's the use? We are trying to kill himself by running himself down, for he says he doesn't have nerve enough to shoot himself. I can't stand by and see him die that way, and he is too good a friend to hope for another like him, so we have decided to go together."

enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Blackheaded pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C.'s of medical science. Red-cells mean clear, pure, rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatic impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. ## NEW YORK STOCKS

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Some of the low priced oils and rails showed fractional changes either way at the opening of today's stock market but the main tendency was upward with American Can and St. Louis and San Francisco establishing advances of a point each. Southern Railway rose to 50 1/4, a new high figure for the year.

Business expanded in subsequent dealings and although weakness developed in Anaconda that stock losing a point the remainder of the list moved steadily upward with the demand keen for the Southern and Northwestern railroad shares. Not profit taking well and after sagging to 115 1/8, ex-dividend, 1 3/4 per cent rose to 118 before again reacting to below 117. St. Louis and San Francisco pfd. advanced 2 points and General Electric and Tidewater Oil 1 3/4. Foreign exchanges opened irregular.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 29.—The cotton market opened steady with first trades showing gains of six to 13 points over yesterday's close. This was hardly a full response to the better Liverpool cables than due. Prices suffered immediately after the opening call, March trading up to 30.40, May to 29.95 and July to 29.85 or 18 to 20 points net higher. Favorable cables and a good demand for spots in the interior were the stimulating influences. Bullish sentiment was checked by very good work in the belt and a rumor that late earnings were running rather larger than expected.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—The cotton market was less active during today's early trading. The opening was 9 to 17 points higher on steady Liverpool cables and reports of a better business in cotton goods. May sold up to 30.22 and July to 29.41 after the call or 15 to 22 points net higher but the demand was not general and the advance not sufficient realizations to cause regular fluctuations. Fall River sales of print cloths for the week were estimated at 70,000 to 80,000 pieces, or considerably above the recent average. There were rumors that private returns placed the final winning for the season at 10,120,000 bales compared with the official crop estimate of 10,081,000 published last December.

Pennsylvania System car loadings week ended February 23, 142,639 against 158,182 in preceding week and 142,432 year ago.

Both Imp and Genius

CLYDE MAXAM

By GEORGE BRITT

NEA Service Writer.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 28.—Imagination and genius dwell together in the chubby body of 6-year-old Clyde Maxam.

How to drive out the one and retain the other or to curb the one and encourage the other has been the problem baffling Milwaukee physicians and psychopaths for four years. But it can be done, specialists declare.

Challenged by the scientific problem, and inspired by the child's despairing parents, they have been developing little Clyde into a man who will express his "genius self."

Meanwhile the child lives his contradictory jangled life.

One moment he shows intelligence far above his years the next, he may explode in a tantrum and hurl a knife at his mother.

His memory is remarkable and he has a mechanical knack exhibited in operating a complicated electric train.

Usually he is quite affectionate, but when the strange cloud hovers he will attack his parents and, once displaying abnormal strength, nearly strangled his father.

Music infuriates him.

Clyde's violent outbreaks began when he was 2 years old, following a spell of pneumonia. During his illness he was unconscious for more than two days.

The case now is in charge of Dr. Paul Rupp who is studying the boy in a sanatorium. Dr. H. Douglas Singer and Dr. David M. Levy, Chicago psychopathic experts to whom the case was described, agreed that Clyde's aberration is probably due to uncontrolled emotion.

And the child's brilliance of mind his genius, would be preserved under the treatment they suggested.

"In a similar case I had a boy was an egocentric," says Dr. Levy. "The world centered in his personality. He was the deity and recognized no guidance or restraint. He fought his parents as in this case. And we did him a great deal of good at the Chicago Institute for Juvenile Research."

"The treatment may sound prosaic. But it is simply to put him in an environment of order and calm and insure plenty of rest. Then let him vent his emotional outbursts on inanimate objects—chopping down trees and digging in a garden. Finally there is supervised play with other children."

JEFFERSON WEEK IS SET ASIDE BY GOV. TRINKLE

(By the Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 28.—Governor E. Lee Trinkle, in a proclamation today set aside April 6 to 12 as "Jefferson Week" to be celebrated as "Impressively as befits an event of highest patriotic significance. The week will be observed by the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation with a campaign for donations to the fund for the preservation and upkeep of Monticello home of Thomas Jefferson and to this end Governor Trinkle today sent his check for $500 to Henry Hotchkiss, treasurer for Virginia.

Governor Trinkle's proclamation is first of similar proclamations which governors of virtually every state in the Union will issue at the behest of the foundation.

In urging "The co-operation of all classes of our people" in the movement for the preservation of Monticello as an "enduring memorial shrine consecrated by the sacred traditions of our national life," Virginia's executive declared.

"It will be a lasting memorial—superb in beauty and unique in appropriateness to this great Patriot, who will ever be revered by our people, and by all mankind, as the author of that most important and inspiring document, the Declaration of all rights. His historic declaration of American Independence, and also of the statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom, the first to be enacted by a sovereign state."

"It will attest this nation's undying gratitude to Thomas Jefferson not alone as the inspired spokesman of our liberties, and the mighty champion of religious freedom, but also as founder of the University of Virginia, the militant advocate of education—free and universal—the steadfast patron of the arts and sciences and the third president of the American Republic, who through the Louisiana Purchase made colossal contribution to the growth of our country."

In enclosing the check to Mr. Hotchkiss Mr. Trinkle wrote:

"I do feel that it is not only the privilege but the duty of the people of the United States to save Monticello, the home of Jefferson for the use and inspiration of our nation. The life and work of Mr. Jefferson if studied cannot fail to give broader vision of usefulness and noble life and now, as a greater desire for real service to humanity."

subject to revision whenever necessary due to repairs damage or other conditions.

Bids must be submitted on or before March 14 and it was stipulated that the board would make no award before that date. Offers must be made on a lump sum basis and may be for one or more ships or for the entire fleet. The advertisement said, and each offer must be accompanied by an initial payment of two and one half per cent of the amount bid.

New Terms For Disposal Ships

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—New terms and conditions under which the Government would dispose of its entire merchant fleet, comprising 1,335 vessels of various types, were announced by the Shipping Board in a general advertisement calling for bids.

Records show only a quarter of the whole tonnage now is in operation, the remainder comprising the laid up fleet.

In announcing the call for bids the board said the advertisement was the law governing the sale of its property and was not "a sudden effort to force the sale of the board's fleet."

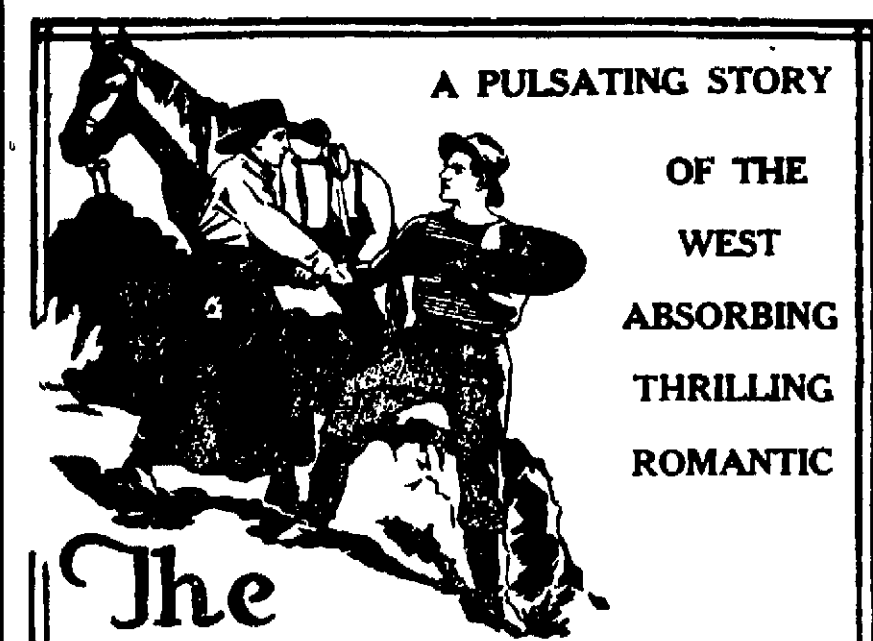

It was in accordance with the "due advertisement" provision of the merchant marine act, it was explained.

Previous offer of sale by the board has been on a flat basis of $30 a ton. Replacing this provision the board said it now was prepared to consider offers for purchase under the various types, based on their relative value as affected by their desirability from point of design, physical condition at the time of sale and other pertinent factors.

The basic sale price of each vessel, it was explained, will be determined by its individual worth and will be

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(By Thomson &amp; McKinnon.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—There can be little doubt but that yesterday's morning story from Washington of a compromise on taxes was the real moving force that brought about short covering. This story is confirmation of this morning and it merely remains for a final verification in the voting. There can be little doubt but that a tax bill that will be agreeable to the administration even though it gives us a smaller loaf than we expected with helpful and favorable vote on this proposition may stimulate the market a little. But I don't expect a resumption of such bullish operations as we have during November and December and January. We have reached a point where stock holding is more likely to come on the market than to be increased and therefore would continue the policy of marketing stocks on the bulges.

Indicated January net for all class 1 rails $52,100,000 or 4 1/2 per cent per annum on valuation against $60,874,000 or 5 1/4 per cent in January 1923.

DR. VON KAHR IS IMPLICATED IN HITLER PUTSCH

(Copyright, 1924, Chicago Tribune.)

MUNICH, Feb. 28.—"We determined to use force against force," declared Police Chief Poehner here today, when he implicated Dr. Von Kahr in the Bavarian putsch. He said the dictator had been connected with Von Kahr since early in September. The criminal governments which have been ruling German states are now unworthy to be called governments, he declared. "They seized forcibly the places which never could have been reached by honest efforts."

Poehner fell out with Von Kahr when the latter refused to place him in charge of a group destined to march toward Berlin. Von Kahr only offered to make him commissioner for Thuringia, Saxony.

Poehner related detailed negotiations which Von Kahr conducted with him and Erhardt, declaring that Kahr had given Erhardt safe conduct throughout Bavaria, despite the fact that there is a large reward on the head of Erhardt by the ex-German government.

The testimony of Poehner was all the more sensational because it followed the testimony of Weber who implicated Von Kahr to be deeply implicated in the plot.

President Weber of the Oe-rand organization, one of the leading armed bands of monarchists in Bavaria, also created a sensation when he declared that Von Kahr and Von Ludendorff had been assured the success of their march on Berlin, and it failed only when Von Kahr and Von Ludendorff failed to keep their promises to the conspirators.

Von Kahr and Von Ludendorff upset the plans for the march by their betrayal, resident Weber declared. The trial drew a packed house of curious Bavarians again today and police continued to conduct their search for arms. The fact that their stockings were searched did not deter the women from flocking to the court rooms.

WARNED TO LEAVE AMERICAN WOMEN ALONE

(By The Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 28.—August Flythstrom, foreman in a tailor shop here reported to authorities today he was kidnapped last night by three masked men posing as prohibition officers and fogged after being spirited several miles into the country. He says he was warned to "get out of town within 48 hours" and to "stay away from American women." Flythstrom came here from Cincinnati last month.

"Newt" Baker Looms Up As Another Candidate For President

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 29.—Newton D. Baker looks like a bookkeeper in a hardware store.

He is short of stature, devoid of ostentation, careless of conventionalities. His face is colorless, except for his brown eyes. He does not look by 10 years like a man in the fifties.

The casual acquaintance finds it difficult to believe that he was secretary of the War Department during the great conflict and that now he is considered as a presidential possibility by his friends in the Democratic party. He refuses to discuss his candidacy.

Baker realizes his handicaps. "If I were only six feet tall and had whippers and a gruff manner, my job would be a lot easier," he said when secretary of war. "I have to acustom myself to being mistaken for my office boy."

When Baker was mayor of Cleveland he shined his own shoes each day. He had a little bootblack stand and brushes in his own office and he didn't care who saw him at it.

Today he is just as careless of what others think. He built a house in a fashionable Cleveland neighborhood, adjacent to one of the city's finest golf courses. But he doesn't play golf and the Baker washings waves in the breeze at the 13th hole. In a few weeks the Bakers will be out in their back yard putting in their garden. Neither is ashamed to be seen in old clothes at work in the soil, although their neighbors employ butlers and gardeners.

Baker rides to work in a street car, his nose buried in a book. Books are his hobby and his thirst for knowledge is insatiable.

He is constantly called upon to make speeches, and usually he talks about the League of Nations. If he is selected to run for president by the Democrats he will certainly run on a league platform.

Newton D. Baker was born in Martinsburg, W. Va., Dec. 3, 1871. He received an A. B. degree from Johns Hopkins and then studied law at Washington and Lee University. For enment of India act, however. "It is impossible for the Indian people and Indian politicians to leap at once into the saddle of administration without disastrous religious or other dissensions among the many races of India," he asserted.

Lord Oliver affirmed the principle that since Great Britain made India what it is, London has the right to a voice in the affairs of that country.

FILM COMPANY WINS SUIT.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A jury in Brooklyn today returned a verdict in favor of Pearl White, movie actress, and the Fox Film Corporation, who were being sued for $50,000 by John F. Beatty, an actor.

Beatty sought the $50,000 as compensation for injuries received in filming a picture at Bayville, Long Island, in 1921. He and Miss White were mounted he set forth, he alleged the actress mismanaged her horse as to cause Beatty's mount to throw him, permanently disabling him.

ANXIETY OVER AFFAIRS IN INDIA

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 28.—"Affairs in India are giving the government great cause for anxiety," confessed Lord Oliver, secretary for India, in the house of lords last night in a remarkable speech. Referring to the question of home rule in India, Lord Oliver pointed out that the manifesto of the home rule party to India, as issued, was an uncompromising pronouncement of distrust of the intentions of the British people.

"Consent can not be given to the proposal for a round table conference to consider home rule," he said, but he indicated that the government was sympathetic with the proposals of the Indian home rule party on the lines of the Chelmsford-Montagu report as a step towards home rule. He added that the government was prepared to consider what modifications might be expedient in the gov-

BOB HAIR CAUSES TILT IN CHICAGO

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The battle over the question of who shall bob the hair of Illinois women and keep it trimmed, bobbed, up, again today with a merry little tilt between the heads of the barbers' union and the beauty parlor associations.

W. S. Leidig, president of the union, appealed to the state department of registration to refuse licenses to the hundreds of beauty parlor applicants, and cited the case of Miss Helen Hansen, as ground for his action. Miss Hansen asserted she secured a bob in an alleged beauty parlor that was an "awful example" of bad bobbing.

The hair dressers on the other hand said that they would fight to the last ditch for the new business, to replace the actual hair dressing business which has slumped terribly since the advent of the bobbed hair craze.

The Illinois law requires that any one wishing to cut and trim hair must have a state license.

NEW DIRIGIBLE READY SOON

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The American dirigible ZR-3, under construction in Germany, will be completed and ready for acceptance tests in April.

Reports received today from Navy officers on duty at the zeppelin plant where the ship is being built said as soon as the zeppelin successfully underwent the tests they would attempt to fly it from Germany via Spain and the Azores to the United States some time in May.

The new craft will be stationed at the Lakehurst air service depot and be operated as a sister ship of the Shenandoah, it is said.

GERMANS WELCOMED BY TURKS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 28.—

Increased immigration of German workers into Asia Minor is noted because of the hospitable attitude of the Nationalist government of Turkey. It is said that 26,000 Germans have moved into Asia Minor since the announcement of its willingness to treat Germans hospitably.

These include professional men, skilled workers and business men. Concessions in various industries are being granted to them, but in each instance the government insists upon vesting control in the hands of Turkish subjects.

Sales no larger this week. Prices on the common grades are some stronger. We advise that you sell your tobacco as rapidly as you can get it in the proper shape. From the best information that I can procure the 1923 crop will be at least Six Hundred Million Pounds. The Auction Sales will amount to from Four Hundred and Sixty to Four Hundred and Seventy-Five Million pounds. So you can see that instead of the Co-Ops getting 33 1-3 per cent. as they did last season they will get only about 25 per cent. this season and from the best information I can get they are storing around 75 per cent of their receipts. If you can't sell your tobacco at Auction I would say it would be wise to plant Cotton. All of our houses will be run the coming season and we extend to you the glad hand. Yours for a square deal.

Pigs' Feet Bring Fortune

SIDEWALK MERCHANT AS SEEN BY ARTIST E. R. HIGGINS

By ALEXANDER HERNAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Pigs' feet have taken a poor woman from the sidewalks of New York to a fashionable resort in California.

And now the other vendors of the street are wondering if fate will be as kind to them.

Twenty-five years ago Lillian Harris went into business. She had $5 only, and she invested it in a tin boiler, a charcoal stove, a second-hand baby carriage, an old table, 50 ears of corn—and a dozen pigs' feet.

Being a good cook, she prepared the latter very appetizingly, went up to Columbus Circle, and opened business on the sidewalk. She didn't have to hallow her wares after the first sales. They sold themselves.

They were the finest pigs' feet in the city, and people from all walks of life came to buy them. Soon she had enough money to open a little shop; then she had to move to larger quarters. More business, more pigs' feet, more pigs' feet.

more business. No, after 25 years, she is on her first vacation—spending some of the $50,000 which the sale of her wares brought her.

Further down the street sits another old lady. She is known as "Broadway Rose." For she sits as a Grand Dame of the past selling the daily newspapers to the after-theater crowd, which she attracts to her little stand by waving a faded rose.

She dreams that some day she, too, will be able to take a vacation. But so far pigs' feet seem to bring in more money than newspapers.

And there are others along the streets—blind men, and crippled, old folk and young—who strive to eke their living from the sidewalks of New York.

Some do it on the sly—by making a "touch" for "fare to Newark," or Brooklyn, others do it legitimately under license of the city.

But all hope that some day they, too, will strike a fortune—of the woman with the pigs' feet.

Stenog Writes Love Letters For Business Men

By STEVE HANNAGAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Miss Lillian Ann Wippler, New York public stenographer, writes love letters for busy business men.

She composes them herself at so much per sheet.

Here is one she wrote for a very, very busy man:

Darling:

This has been a busy day for me—press of detail, clash of interests, honest differences between the minds who concern me. At noon I knew I would be tired tonight—overtired—and resolved not to write to you, fearing, a lagged pen and thoughts trivial and unworthy.

But the mood has its hands at my throat—there is something I want to say, and I ask for grace to say it on the typewriter.

I love the heart of you, so tender, the mind of you so broad and strong, the soul of you—the hites gem in any fleshly setting.

I love your truth which flows down to me through your speech and bearing, like a beneficent brook whose source is high among God's rocks and pines.

I love you for the way you look into my eyes, sailing your very self into the harbor of my longing.

I love your lips, the lashes of your eyes, the hands that press my temples; and the arms wherein I rest; and I long to love you for, oh! so many other things! The list is long and I fear would finish at not now, but in the sweet days to come, when we are together—TOGETHER!

If a college boy breezed in from Yale, Harvard or Princeton to attend a week-end stag fraternity dinner, and was pressed for time, Miss Wippler would write this letter to his sweetheart for him.

My very own little Honeybun:

Are you all right? And are you thinking of a sweetie? It seems so long since I held you in my arms, during that thrilling dance out on the terrace, in the moonlight! This is just such another night, moonlight and everything, but you dear I wish you were here to make the hour perfect! Are you in love with me a little bit, My Honey? Do write me a note to reach me tomorrow evening to help hear me through the stag dinner I am to attend. How I hate these stag affairs—all but the cocktails—because they take me away from my very own Petit Cheri.

My little sweetie sweet I do with three entreats. Be my very own Cheri, Petit. From your lucky darling Petal!

LILLIAN ANN WIPPLER, STENOGRAPHIC WHO WRITES LOVE NOTES FOR BUSY BUSINESS MEN.

And if a dreamy-eyed, love-sick individual dragged himself into Miss Wippler's office and explained the joyful aches of his heart she would dip her typewriter in ink and write this for him:

Sweetheart:

Was it only last night! Today is the 8th, yesterday was the 7th. Yes, it must have been last night, but it seems such a long time back. Surely hours are capricious things—they hold so much! I did not know that I was going to meet you, and you caught me quite unarmed when you stood in the path and challenged. For the first half hour I thought you cold, blasé, opinionated. Later in the evening I began to think that estimate decidedly unjust; and this morning my memory holds you so warm and receptive! I could not sleep but kept reviewing the golden hours we spent together.

I love you now and will love you always. If you will only have me I will be the happiest creature under God's sky. My darling, see me again tonight and tell me that I can be—Always your very own

Firpo Quits New Jersey Syndicate

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—All negotiations with a New York syndicate for a match July 19 with Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, were called off today by Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine boxer, through his American representative, William McCahey, because of conditions imposed by promoters.

McCahey announced he had been instructed by Firpo to abandon negotiations after the syndicate headed by Lew Raymond and Symon Flaherty, had issued a statement setting forth the terms on which they made a final bid for the fight, for which they had put up a half million dollar purse.

Conditions which the syndicate imposed and Firpo rejected were that a preliminary forfeit of $50,000 be deposited in New York instead of Buenos Aires, and that the Argentine, upon arriving in this country and until the proposed fight, place himself under the control of the syndicate to protect its interests. The latter stipulation would have meant cancellation of an extensive exhibition tour arranged for Firpo.

Firpo indicated in a cable despatch last night that he might waive his demand that $50,000 forfeit be deposited in Buenos Aires, if the syndicate waived its conditions that he abandon other ring engagements prior to a fight with Wills, but when Raymond refused to modify his terms the Argentine abruptly called off further dealings.

With the withdrawal of the syndicate, Tex Rickard's bid for the Wills-Firpo battle may be accepted.

What's Going on in the World

WEEK'S CHIEF EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

By CHARLES F. STEWART

Secretary of the Navy Denby was just as positive he would resign as Attorney General Daugherty is. Yet he resigned. So there's no certainty the pressure won't be too severe for Daugherty, too. If he did speculate in Sinclair oil—he hasn't admitted it—his friends declare his dealings were small; he lost, besides. They don't say he meant to, though. Fairly accused—his claims—by certain senators, Daugherty talks of appealing to "the bar of public opinion": how, isn't clear.

Presidential Secretaries

The Senate oil investigators plan to put President Coolidge's secretary, Bascom Sloop, on the pan. They want to know if he's chatted about the oil cases with anybody. Of course he has. It will be hearsay, but might be interesting if he talks freely. President Harding's secretary, George Christian, avoided investigation by asking President Coolidge to cancel his appointment to a job on the Federal Trade Commission. This happened after Chairman Thompson stated Christian, as secretary, had tried to influence the commission in favor of a movie concern. Christian said it wasn't so, but he didn't want to work with an uncongenial chairman.

France and Germany

Premier Poincare of France, whose policy has blocked every effort to put Germany in better business shape, is so weak politically now that maybe he won't be able to veto General Dawes' plan. Poincare has just won a test vote in the Paris Chamber of Deputies, but it's generally expected he'll lose the coming national election. Some of the papers even talk of a dictatorship under President Millerand, to crowd him out sooner than that.

Waked Them Up

Prohibition may not have been jolted, but dry agents' methods were, when one of them, shooting at a mere suspect, in Washington, hit Senator Greene in the head. One of its own members having been nearly killed, Congress sat up with a jerk and began to investigate—especially Dry Commissioner Haynes' recent declaration that a few shootings didn't matter, compared with enforcing the law. Even the dry lawmakers don't want to be shot.

Oregon's Job

Now that President Obregon, using American arms, has about quelled rebellion in Mexico, he's trying to stretch his term, soon to expire, by two years. Which hits at some truth in the charge by General del la Huerta, beaten rebel leader, that the "Obregonistas" are trying to hang onto power by peculiar means.

Your Income Tax

In connection with the income tax fight, there's but one safe bet—there will be no reduction in time to affect payments due March 15. Belated changes may mean rebates later on. To big taxpayers they'll mean something. To the average man they won't amount to much—perhaps a box of cigars. For all practical purposes, so far as 1923 is concerned, he's "stuck" at the present rate.

America's Million

The "German-American Mixed Claims Commission" having awarded about a million to Americans for the Lusitania sinking, Berlin cables say Germany will pay as soon as she can borrow the money from the United States.

AWAY WITH SCOFFLAW!

MRS. ROSE R. SCOTT

By ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEA Service Staff Writer

SAUGATUCK, Conn., Feb. 28.—Scofflaw, "scofflaw" are still on the hunt for a $100 word to stigmatize the ultra-dry.

They are rallying from all over the country to the standard of Mrs. Rose R. Scott, a young mother here, who offered the prize for an antonym of "scofflaw"—the word which was selected recently from among anybody opposed to the present prohibition laws.

"Never having partaken of any drink stronger than wholesome beer," she says, "not being in politics, nor a member of either wet or dry societies, my offer is sincere."

"I am a busy housewife. My main ambition is that my two little sons, Joseph and Richard, shall be brought up intelligently to respect the laws of our country. But I don't want them restricted when they are men. I intend to educate them in such a way that they will not need to be hedged in by laws to make them behave. I intend to train them in temperance and, by common sense, show them the evils of excessive drinking, something that all the laws in the world cannot do.

"When I heard that a committee of dry advocates had got a word, 'scofflaw,' to make fun of those opposed to their views, I became angry. So I sat right down and made the offer of $100 of my own money."

Suggestions for the prize word are coming in from all parts of the United States, England and France. Among them are:

Antifire, Gloombug, Egotator, Peeksuff, Forcelaw, Hypocrobo, Meddelnski, Mustnot, Prohibecrite, Volpest, Texas Censorpost, Drydespot, Yeshoter, Taboozer, Anderson, Pureplus, Holipeet, Dumbat, Scoffright, Teapotter, Antichristian, Reformaniac, Crepehanger, Slavelaw, Drybigot, Slopoc, Gnatstrainer, Sneaksniff, Padfoot, Grafaw, Rabidest, Dryscrammer, Fustianic, Piffledud, Phari-sneak, Killright.

The contest, announces Mrs. Scott, will close on March 10, when a committee of newspaper will select the winning word.

WATER TRAFFIC BOOMING.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 28.—Twin Cities business men have given assurance that full cargoes will be available for all freight boats operated on the upper Mississippi this season, which opens March 15. Rates are announced as 180 per cent of all rail tariffs, including marine insurance, drayage and switching charges between boat landings and rail connections. Henry Ford has announced he will operate light draft barges and tow boats designed by his engineers.

MRS. WILSON GIVEN STAMPING PRIVILEGES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The House today passed a Senate bill granting to Edith Bolling Wilson, widow of Woodrow Wilson, the privilege of using the mails without cost.

EXPERTS TAKE UP RAILROAD CONTROL

(By The Associated Press.)

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The problem of the control of the German railroads occupied the reparations experts today. What they seek is a plan that will give a guarantee satisfactory to the Allies and at the same time to afford sufficient freedom of management to give German industries the service they want.

It is understood on good authority that the Germans have made no objections to the principle of control. The difficulty is, however, that for maximum railway service, the Germans likely will demand an adjustment of rates which might not be sufficient to furnish the guarantees for which it is proposed to pledge the railroad system.

Sir William Acworth, a British railway expert, and M. Leger, a French expert, were heard for the last time on this subject today. The fact that they have finished their work is taken to indicate a plan has been found for presentation to the reparations commission.

The same question of control came up in connection with the budget, the difficulty in this case being to devise an adequate control which would be entirely bereft of politics.

NEGRO GUILTY OF MURDER

(By The Associated Press.)

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 28.—Sam Potter, negro, charged with murder in connection with the death of Shields Hale, also a negro, last Nov. 10, was found guilty of second degree murder and penalty was set at eighteen years by the jury here today. The verdict was rendered after fifteen minutes before midnight after the trial had dragged through the whole day. The jury was out one hour and fifteen minutes. The shooting was the culmination of a quarrel which began about a gambling table, occurring the afternoon of the day following. Potter fled and was captured in Pennsylvania several weeks ago.

HARRIS TRIAL STORMY AS EVER

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Beverly D. Harris, banker, who is suing for annulment of his marriage to Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris, on the ground that she concealed the true story of the past and pasted pictures of aristocratic family connections, passed today in the supreme court, telling of his courtship, of his love, married life and the ending of the romance. When he left the stand he rested the case.

Mrs. Harris' case was opened with the submission of depositions tending to show that she was Eleanor Elaine Lee, a daughter of Mrs. Seleuda N. Lee, born a few months before the death of Mrs. Lee in 1896, but that she was not Samuella, "Suze" or "Susy Ella" Lee.

The courtroom, as on other days, was crowded and the testimony, at times sensational, kept the spectators buzzing and brought frequent interruptions. Once when her husband, on cross examination was asked about a suspicion he once had that his wife was the daughter of Zetta Lee, an orphan, who conducted a house of ill-repute in Memphis, Mrs. Harris burst into tears and sobbed on the arm of George Gordon Battle, her chief counsel.

On another occasion when her husband, telling of her efforts to get a divorce, said he never had as much as $50.00 at one time, his wife slipped from her chair and gave him the lie. She was admonished by Justice Wasservogel and warned she would be taken out of the courtroom if it happened again.

Mr. Harris admitted on cross examination that it had been proved that his wife was not the illegitimate daughter of Zetta Lee.

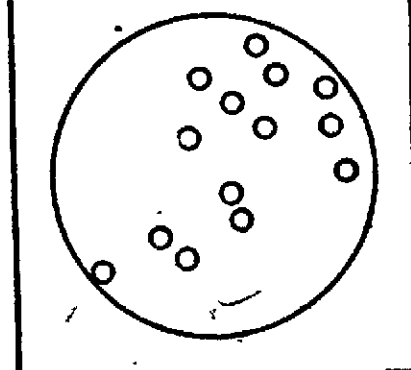

The banker, who said he now was 57 years old, told his story in every detail. From the time he was introduced to Elaine Lee in Houston, Tex., by Congressman Jeff McDermore, until he learned by chance from a Memphis acquaintance that his wife was not a member of the aristocratic family of Lees who operated the Lee lines of Mississippi River packets.

Congressman McDermore, he said, told him Miss Lee was one of the most beautiful and cultured girls he ever had seen, a true blue-blood of the south and "just the girl you should meet." McDermore recited to him her family connections, he said, and everything he said was repeated by Miss Lee after he met her. He told of his love for the girl and their marriage. They went to the coast after their wedding, he said, but it was a business trip, not a honeymoon. His wife smiled amusedly at this statement.

Substantiation of Mrs. Harris' claim that her husband has been told she was an illegitimate child, Mr. Battle read a letter which Mr. Harris identified as having been written by himself. It follows, in part:

"This is your birthday. Of all the handiwork of God in all the world

The drawing is a chart of 14 volcanoes that appear on the surface of the moon. With one curved line, the five of the moon may be divided into two parts, each equal in size and shape, and each part will contain just seven volcanoes. Can you do it?

Yesterday's answer:

There were 300 men in the original crew, with provisions for 50 days. 300x50 totals 15000, the number of individual provisions per day. If 25 men were dropped, the provisions would have lasted 20 days more. (1500 divided by 25—result, 60). But by adding 100 men, the 50 days supply was reduced by 15. (1500 divided by 100—result 15).

ON ROAD TO BONEYARD

"I have just finished a treatment of your wonderful remedy and can say it has done wonders for me already. For the past five years I have been unable to eat any but the lightest food and that but sparingly, as any food caused me to bloat with gas. I was reduced to a skeleton of ninety pounds and the road to the boneyard. A friend in Birmingham sent me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I took, and I am sure it will entirely cure me of my trouble. Judging from what it brought from me and the way I feel." ## COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases and excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold no matter of how long standing is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

PROTEST AGAINST LOWERING RATES

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Protest against the granting by the Interstate Commerce Commission of applications by certain railroads for lower transcontinental rates, was made today in a resolution adopted by the shipping board on the ground that it would divert to the roads shipments now carried by water carriers through the Panama Canal.

The board in its resolution held that the request for lower railroad rates was made "in contemplation that it will drive the ocean carrier from this competitive trade."

The ship lines now engaged in the inter-coastal service, the resolution said, have been established as a competitive artery of transportation for commodities moving between the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, resulting in the development of a large volume of commerce which has been "of great benefit to the producing, consuming and manufacturing portions of our population."

Any destruction of "this favorable and economical competitive transportation," it was contended, would be injurious to the public interests.

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Tom O'Rourke, veteran fight promoter, giving in a letter a version of how Tex Rickard came to stage the Dempsey-Firpo bout at the Polo Grounds last summer contributed today to the legislative turmoil of the boxing situation.

The O'Rourke letter was followed by a resolution introduced in the senate by Michael McBurn, Democrat, of Kings, asking for an investigation by a legislative committee of the State Athletic Commission.

PROMISING PUGILISTS GO ANOTHER NOTCH ON FISTIC LADDERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Ad Stone, Philadelphia's "fighting marine," and Paul Berlenbach, Gotham's newest knockout king, two of the ring's most promising title aspirants, have advanced another notch on the fistic ladders.

Both hung up knockout victories last night at Madison Square Garden. Stone stopped Dave McGill, Irish light-heavyweight, in the eleventh round of a 12-round match, while Berlenbach's 25th straight knockout victim was Young Fisher, Syracuse middleweight, who was counted out in the sixth round.

Probable That Cy Twombly Will Be Back In Piedmont

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

Men familiar with baseball are inclined to the view or anticipation that Pitcher Cy Twombly, one of the stars of the Piedmont League during the last two seasons, is likely to be seen hurling on the Stonewall Jackson ball lot before July 4th. This expectation is based upon no lack of appreciation of Twombly's ability as a boxman, nor rather to the fact that he is under contract with the Washington and Lee University as physical director and coach, the duties which will occupy him until about June 1st or 10th. While working for Danville team, he did not report until his university duties were ended, and it is assumed that when the Birmingham team of the Southern association acquired him from Danville, his contract contained a clause specifying the dates when he could report, without violating of his prior contract.

Even if Birmingham were willing to await his coming and the time requisite to attain pitching form, that team's pitching staff will probably have been madouped. A part of the sale price of the pitcher, it is understood, was made contingent upon his making good by a specified date, with the privilege of the purchasing club of returning him to Danville, if then desired, and thus saving the balance of the agreed purchase price.

It is likely that Trexler and Cochran have similar contracts, and that if Birmingham decides that it does not desire to complete the payment of the agreed purchase price it may return either or both these men to the team from which they were acquired.

riding games against Harvard and Princeton. And his work in football—his run of his through a soaked field for a touchdown at Cambridge—still further marks him out as a hero.

Still, Wood would like to see Howland, last year's freshman pitcher, who will be missed. However, he has Scott, Eno, Dodge, Cox, Deroe, Ohnell and Rehberger, all promising material. Behind the bat he has Bill Mallory and Lovejoy, two stalwarts, as well as Hinchliffe, last year's freshman star back stop. On the whole the material looks very promising.

SPORTS GOSSIP

Edith Cummings, national golf champion, and Marion Hollins, who won the title three seasons ago, are keeping in trim at California. Miss Cummings plans to leave next month for England to play in the big tournament in that country. She was an unsuccessful competitor last spring.

Bob Shawkey is the one question-mark on the New York Yankees' pitching staff. Shawkey's arm ailed him a great deal last year and it is no certainty that he will be able to work regularly this season. Shawkey's peculiar delivery is hard on the arm.

Buffalo fight fans have transferred their affections from Rocky Hands, veteran, to Jimmy Slattery, a light heavyweight. Slattery is only 18 years old, but shapes up like a real comer, being fast, clever and a hard puncher. Slattery gained national fame the other night by defeating the sensational Young Strubling in six rounds.

The high basketballs leave today for a couple of games on the road. Tonight they meet the Roanoke High quint at Roanoke and tomorrow they tackle the Charlottesville boys at their home battleground and a tentative game with Tanneycville has been arranged for Tuesday night at Municipal Hall although it has not been definitely decided if the Carolinians will come here or not. Those three are the only games now scheduled before the Lynchburg tournament booked for March 6, 7 and 8. Coach Wilson is preparing his boys to put forth their very best in the championship contests and feels confident that the locals will bring back at least some of the honors of the occasion.

Danville will have no wrestling card to break the monotony of a dull period in the sporting season this week. ## PLAYING STAR ROLES IN PURDUE'S FIGHT

The team that wins the Big Ten basketball championship will have to beat Purdue. That's the situation at present. Purdue is setting the pace in the Western Conference and bids well to stay in front until the last goal is scored, according to the experts. Purdue is winning because of an excellent combination of fine individual talent and smooth team play. In Spradlin, Purdue has the leading point maker in the Big Ten, and one of the fiercest forwards to be found anywhere. Robbins is a skilled forward and Captain Gullion is an inspiring team leader. In Sheets, a 17-year-old high school product, Purdue boasts one of the freaks of the game. Sheets has enormously big hands and can palm a basketball in either of them simultaneously, just as a baseball player would hold a couple of baseballs. Chicago appears to be the only team with a chance to bother Purdue in the drive down the stretch.

FISTIC SITUATION IN NEW YORK UNCERTAIN

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The place in the pugilistic limelight last year held by New York, probably will be usurped this year by New Jersey, according to present indications.

Not only have a combination of circumstances involving legislative action, charges and counter-charges of ticket speculation and other events made the future fistic situation uncertain in this State, but a direct bid for leading ring plums of the year, including two or three heavyweight bouts, has been made by New York's proposal to increase to 25 per cent.

the minimum admission charge in that State. This figure an increase of $10 yesterday was approved by the House Assembly. It is understood to have administrative support and is expected to go through the Senate and be sanctioned by Governor Silzer. Tex Rickard, fortified with his big pine bowl at Boyle's Thirty Acres, expects to conduct there most of the leading attractions he is negotiating for during the outdoor season, particularly if apparent hostility to such prospective matches as Firpo-Willie and Willis-Dempsey bouts continues in New York.

ATLANTA GAMES BEGAN YESTERDAY

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 28.—The University of Florida went down to defeat before Clemson College of S. C. tonight in the opening game of the Southern Intercollegiate Conference tournament, the game ending 17 to 15.

The game was hotly contested and was nip and tuck throughout with Florida leading until the last minutes of play.

The program for tomorrow gets underway at 1 o'clock with eight games scheduled to be played.

The program is arranged as follows:
1 o'clock: Tulane vs. South Carolina.
2 o'clock: V. M. I. vs. Maryland.

WASHINGTON'S NEW MANAGER WAS WORST EVER IN BUSHES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—The selection of Stanley Harris as manager of the Washington club recalls to minds of western Michigan fans his debut in the Central League in 1916. That year Harris was a member of the Bluejays (Mich.) team. He played at third base.

Harris was a fizzle. He was an out-and-out frost. He appeared in 53 games, accruing a batting average of .166. He got 28 hits in 163 trips to the plate. He scored five runs and stole two bases. His fielding percentage was .482. "Bucky," as he was known, was one of the worst players in the league.

Within nine years, Harris was discarded by Buffalo, Detroit, Scranton, Reading, Norfolk, Va., and Muskegon. In 1917 he played with Reading, the managers of the two clubs suggested that I make every effort to finish the game.

Everything went fine for three and one-half innings. In the last of the fourth inning, the Cleveland club made five runs. That started trouble. The Detroit club, four runs to the

CHATHAM QUINT WINS FROM SOUTH BOSTON

SOUTH BOSTON, Va., Feb. 28.—The basketball quint of the Chatham Training School defeated the local high school team by a score of 23 to 15 here tonight in an interesting game. While the South Boston boys fought gamely to the finish, the brilliant goal shooting of T. Sanford, one of the forwards of the visiting team, was the decisive factor. The Chatham star accounted for 14 of his team's 23 points and was a power on the defensive also. For South Boston, Hill, forward, was the stellar man, accounting for nine of his team's 15 points.

FOR THE GAME'S SAKE

BY LAWRENCE PERRY

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—So far as he personally is concerned Gene Sarazen denied today the reported credit to Joe Kirkwood and he and Sarazen and Hagen would not participate in the national open championship. There as on given was the trio of great players had decided to give preference to the British open title meeting the latter part of June.

From Orlando, Florida, Sarazen, replied to the writer's query as to the truth of this report in definite terms of denial.

"I don't know where the report originated," he wrote, "but I know I personally shall play in the open tournament of my own country before entering any other. I am going to make an effort to take in the British meeting also but if I find the national open at Detroit in anyway prevents my going abroad, I shall pass up the British tourney this year."

Hagen and Sarazen played at Orlando on Monday, each paired with a local professional. And incidentally Sarazen, showing all of his real form, had a wonderful 69. Both Hagen and Sarazen announced they would play in the British open provided they could arrange to take part in the American tourney at Oakland hills as well.

Quite evidently what the two stars wish to do is to essay the national open early in June and then hurry to England in time to enter the British affair. They believe that the chance exists this year to do something no golfer has ever succeeded in doing, that is—winning the National Open and the British Open in the same year.
As both tournaments will be played in June, the first in the early part of the month, the other toward the end, a golfer would be able to hold his top form through both events. Usually when a star attains his best he is able to hold it for several weeks. The national open title is worth at least $25,000 in a year to a professional. The British championship would return a similar sum to the winner. It will thus be seen, almost at a glance that the players who win both these golf features would reap a young fortune.

BASKETBALL TOURNEY OPENS PROPER TODAY

(By The Associated Press.)

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 29.—Everything was in readiness early today for the opening proper of the third annual Southern Intercollegiate conference basketball tournament. Florida was eliminated from the running in the preliminary game last night, suffering defeat by the Clemson five, 17 to 15 enabling the tournament to be played off in a straight eight game program.

Tulane and South Carolina are the first two teams to take the floor. The game was set for one o'clock with V. M. I. and Maryland to start an hour later. Three o'clock was the starting hour for the Mississippi-Alabama fracas, with Vanderbilt vs. Clemson and the Mississippi Aggies and Tennessee to be called on the floor at 4 and 5 o'clock respectively.

The three night games, Georgia Tech vs. Auburn, the University of Georgia vs. Washington and Lee and North Carolina vs. Kentucky, were to meet following the afternoon contests, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Tulane, with a record of 21 wins out of 23 starts this season, appeared well in pre-tournament practice here. The University of Mississippi Five also gave fans who witnessed the team practice yesterday something to talk about.

In two of the games set for this afternoon, the opposing teams have met twice before this season, each winning a victory. The games between the Mississippi Aggies and Tennessee and the University of Alabama and the University of Mississippi, promised warm struggles.

V. M. I. and Maryland meet here today for the first time as new comers in the tournament.

Comedy Stops Contest

By BILLY EVANS.

To my way of thinking, the late Germany Schaefer created one of the funniest situations I have ever seen on the ball field. The humor centered around his personal appearance, rather than his play.

It was back in 1906, Detroit playing in Cleveland. The date was July 3. There was a crowd of about 5000 in the stands. The weather was threatening, and not desiring to pick up any rain checks on the Fourth of July, the managers of the two clubs suggested that I make every effort to finish the game.

Harry LaJoie was managing Cleveland, while Bill Armour was in charge of Detroit. Both agreed they would make their players hustle in and out and would tolerate no delays.

Everything went fine for three and one-half innings. In the last of the fourth inning, the Cleveland club made five runs. That started trouble. The Detroit club, four runs to the bad, with the promise of having rain end the game any minute, forgot all about their good resolutions to in no way delay the game.

Immediately every possible manner of stalling was indulged in. Nothing was overlooked. Jack Sheridan, who was umpiring the bases, with me, peevish at the tactics of the Detroit club, suggested that I keep on playing regardless of how much rain fell.

The Cleveland club finally managed to retire the Tigers in the first of the fifth. That made it a ball game. It was raining hard. Both clubs were willing to quit and call it a day. However, Sheridan and I were working wet, also a bit sore, and we decided to keep on playing.

Three more innings were played in a downpour. When the Detroit club took the field for the last of the eighth, there was Schaefer at second, glove in one hand, umbrella in another, and wearing a rain-coat buttoned high around his throat, hunched over from a fan. I called the game.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Joe Wood was looked upon as the best pitcher in New Haven and he found eight catchers and twenty pitchers out for places on the Yale nine.

Think what eight catchers and twenty pitchers would have looked like to the coach or captain in the 44 days! Now in regard to the treatment I cannot praise it too highly.
After 1 month of continual pain I was surprised how quickly your treatment worked.

Had Both Protruding and Bleeding Piles.
Mr. E. R. Page, Marshall, Mich.
Dear Sir:—I am glad to say your medicine has helped me and the last package has cured me. I have been two months without any medicine and have done a lot of hard work since. It is a wonderful remedy. When I sent for the first treatment I was not able to be on my feet and suffered terribly. It was the protruding and bleeding piles together. At night I could not rest and I had given up to have an operation, but read of this remedy and so I gave it a trial. It has saved me from a lot of suffering and also many dollars. I can't say enough to praise the Page Pile Method. I am glad there is a remedy for piles as I do not think much of these operations. I am feeling fine and glad I found out about your wonderful medicine. Will always recommend it. Yours respectfully,

Little Boy Cured in a Week
Mr. E. R. Page, Marshall, Mich.
Dear Sir:—After I had given three of the best doctors in this town a chance to do something for my little boy, they all failed and told me the knife was the only chance for him. So I let them all go and never did any more for the boy until I tried your treatment. It was not a week till his piles left him and they have never showed any more. I have recommended your treatment to others and they say they are going to order. I am glad I can do for you.
Yours, as ever,
